

National Tracking Poll #190719
July 12-14, 2019

Crosstabulation Results

Methodology:

This poll was conducted from July 12-14, 2019, among a national sample of 1984 Registered Voters. The interviews were conducted online and the data were weighted to approximate a target sample of Registered Voters based on age, race/ethnicity, gender, educational attainment, and region. Results from the full survey have a margin of error of plus or minus 2 percentage points.

34	Table POL12: As you may know, Immigrations and Customs Enforcement (ICE) has planned a series of raids to arrest and deport thousands of undocumented immigrants. These immigrants have outstanding court orders to be removed from the U.S. Do you support or oppose these raids by ICE?	143
35	Table POL13: As you may know, there is currently a debate over whether or not a question about a person’s citizenship should be added to the 2020 census. Government experts have said that including the citizenship question would cause many immigrants to refuse to take the survey, resulting in an undercount of the U.S. population. Critics of including the question say this would result in fewer resources and less political power going toward regions with higher populations of immigrants. Supporters of including a citizenship question say states should have access to the number of noncitizens living in their state. Based on what you know now, which of the following is closest to what you believe, even if neither is exactly right.	147

36 Table POL14: President Trump said he will no longer try to include the citizenship question in the 2020 census in response to the Supreme Court’s ruling. Do you support or oppose President Trump’s decision to end his efforts to add a citizenship question to the 2020 census? 152

Table POL13: As you may know, there is currently a debate over whether or not a question about a person's citizenship should be added to the 2020 census. Government experts have said that including the citizenship question would cause many immigrants to refuse to take the survey, resulting in an undercount of the U.S. population. Critics of including the question say this would result in fewer resources and less political power going toward regions with higher populations of immigrants. Supporters of including a citizenship question say states should have access to the number of noncitizens living in their state. Based on what you know now, which of the following is closest to what you believe, even if neither is exactly right.

Table POL13: As you may know, there is currently a debate over whether or not a question about a person's citizenship should be added to the 2020 census. Government experts have said that including the citizenship question would cause many immigrants to refuse to take the survey, resulting in an undercount of the U.S. population. Critics of including the question say this would result in fewer resources and less political power going toward regions with higher populations of immigrants. Supporters of including a citizenship question say states should have access to the number of noncitizens living in their state. Based on what you know now, which of the following is closest to what you believe, even if neither is exactly right.
